ABOUT US

Pinnacle Conservation is a community-based conservation trust in the beautiful coastal town of Mossel Bay, South Africa. It has created more than 150 jobs and mentored sixteen interns over the last two years. Pinnacle Conservation is involved in a variety of research, conservation, education and ecotourism projects in Mossel Bay and the Garden Route.

INTERNSHIP PROGRAMS:

The Internship Program is one of the many projects Pinnacle Conservation conducts. It offers workplace experience and valuable exposure and opportunities for life skills development. The program is designed in consultation with various education institutions including colleges, universities, etc.

EXPERIENTIAL TRAINING INTERNSHIP

Pinnacle Conservation has various student internship opportunities available for a wide spectrum of school leavers through to university graduates. These include students who require the necessary bridging and practical experience in their desired fields.

PRE-INTERNSHIP

This program is offered to students who are unsure what career path to take or what to study, whether it be environmental or business fields. Students are offered a 3-6 month internship in which they are exposed to various career fields. An overall assessment on the school leaver's performance is given as well as assistance in getting into the desired field they want to enter.

JOB SHADOWING / VOLUNTEER

Pinnacle Conservation also offers a job shadowing /volunteer program where anyone passionate about the environment can join any of the projects. This gives volunteers the opportunity to get exposure on how to run community projects and outreaches, providing them with experience in their desired field.

INTERNATIONAL

The international student program offers students the experience of living and working in South Africa amidst other students, as well as getting practical experience on preserving and conserving our endemic wildlife. This program is aimed at being a once in a life time opportunity for foreign students and environmentalists.
